

CONTRIBUTORS

Aiedah Abdul Khalek is a senior lecturer at the Malaysia Immersion and Pathways, Monash University Malaysia. She holds a PhD and a Master of Shariah (MA) from Universiti Malaya (UM). Her research expertise ranges in the field of religion and society, with specific interests in Muslim societies, ethnic relations, religious tolerance and social cohesion. She also currently works on multidisciplinary research projects which are established on the intersection of religion, medicine and social sciences.

Andi Sukri Syamsuri is a Linguistics (Indonesian) Professor at the Faculty of Adab and Humaniora, UIN Alauddin Makassar, South Sulawesi. He completed the Doctoral Program (S3) in Linguistics at Hasanuddin University, the Master's Program in Linguistics at Hasanuddin University, the S1 Indonesian Language and Literature Education at FKIP Muhammadiyah University Makassar (Unismuh Makassar), and the Diploma 3 Study Program in Bugis Language Education at Fakultas Pendidikan Bahasa dan Sastra, Teacher Training and Education Institute (IKIP/UNM) Ujung Pandang. His current position at Universitas Muhammadiyah Makassar is Vice Chancellor II (Finance and Human Resources).

Arif Datoem is a senior lecturer from the Faculty of Creative Technology and Heritage, Universiti Malaysia Kelantan (UMK) specialising in photography and videography. He obtained a doctoral degree from Institut Seni Indonesia Yogyakarta, Indonesia. He has been teaching for more than three decades and has produced various articles published in journals and art exhibitions materials. His current research interests are photo-anthropology and photo-ethnographic methods, especially representation theory.

Baszley Bee B. Basrah Bee is a senior lecturer in the History Programme, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Universiti Malaysia Sabah (UMS). He obtained his M.Phil. from Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM). His research interests include maritime and nautical archaeology. He has done research on Borneo ancient history and cartography of the South China Sea, particularly on the issues of territorial disputes.

Ibrahim Komoo is former Director of the Institute for Environment and Development (LESTARI), UKM and currently Founder/CEO Geopark and Geotourism Creative Solutions Sdn. Bhd. He also held various positions in UKM, such as Head of the Department of Geology, Founder Director of SEADPRI-UKM, Deputy Vice Chancellor (Research and Innovation) and also was a Vice Chancellor of Universiti Malaysia Terengganu (UMT). He has been involved in higher education research related to university excellence and talent management.

Ilhaamie Abdul Ghani Azmi is an associate professor at the Department of Syariah and Management, Academy of Islamic Studies, UM. She holds a PhD from Universiti Sains Malaysia (USM), MBA from UKM and BBA from International Islamic University Malaysia (IIUM). Her research interests include human resource management, entrepreneurship, service quality and Islamic management.

Junaidah Hashim is a Professor at the Department of Business Administration, Kulliyyah of Economics and Management Sciences, IIUM. She holds a PhD and MBA from Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM) and BBA (Accounting) from Pacific Lutheran University, USA. Her research interest is human resource development.

Mohd Alif Jasni is a senior lecturer in the Department of Counselling and Correctional, School of Applied Psychology, Social Work and Policy, Universiti Utara Malaysia (UUM). He obtained his PhD in criminal justice from UM in 2018. His research interests include the criminal justice system, recidivism, former prisoners, homeless former prisoner, social work rehabilitation and gender.

Mohd Faiz Hilmi is a senior lecturer at the School of Distance Education, USM. He holds a Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration from Washington State University and an MBA from UUM. He earned his Doctor of Business Administration degree from USM in 2008. His primary areas of interest in research include the management of technological innovation, innovative behaviour and distance learning.

Mohd Shafie Rosli is currently employed at Universiti Teknologi Malaysia (UTM)'s School of Education, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Johor, Malaysia. He holds a Doctor of Philosophy in Educational Technology from UTM. His research primarily focuses on education, social science, educational technology and applied statistics. He is an active writer and researcher in a variety of social science fields. He is also involved in the implementation of career development programmes for educators.

Muslihah Hasbullah is a senior lecturer at the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Faculty of Human Ecology, UPM. She holds a PhD in Law, a Master of Comparative Law (MCL) and an LLB (Hons) from the IIUM. She is a socio-legal researcher with a specific interest in family law, child and family advocacy, social policy and law as well as parenting.

Nik Sabrina Abdullah obtained her Bachelor of Computer Science (2010) from USM and Master of Information Technology Management (2014) from UKM. She is currently pursuing a doctoral degree in higher education at the Faculty of Education, UKM and is actively conducting research related to the academic profession in Higher Education Institutions. She has been a research assistant at UKM since 2012, and is directly involved in various research projects related to higher education, academic profession and academic leadership.

Norizan Kadir is a senior lecturer at the History Section, School of Distance Education, USM. She holds a PhD from UM in History of the Philippines and a Bachelor Degree from Sultan Idris Education University. Her research interests include the Philippines claim to Sabah, diplomatic history (Malaysia-Philippines bilateral relations) and Malaysian history. She is also interested in the intellectual history of Southeast Asia and history of ideas.

Norruzeyati Che Mohd Nasir is an associate professor at the Department of Social Work, School of Applied Psychology, Social Work and Policy, UUM. She received her Bachelor of Management (Policy & Social Environment) from UMT, Masters of Social Work from USM and PhD in Correctional Social Work from Monash University, Caulfield, Australia. Her area of specialisation and research interests include correctional social work, criminal justice system, criminology, parole and probation, delinquency, substance abuse and qualitative research.

Norzaini Azman is Professor of Higher Education at the Centre for Policy and Leadership, Faculty of Education, UKM. She is currently serving her third term as President of the Malaysian Society for Research and Higher Education Policy Development (PenDaPaT). Norzaini is also a fellow of the Academy of Professors, Malaysia and a member of the Board of Governors of University College Yayasan Pahang. Her main research interests include higher education policy and governance, the academic profession, higher education and sustainability and leadership.

Nor Shela Saleh is a senior lecturer at Universiti Tun Hussein Onn Malaysia's Department of Social Sciences, Centre for General Studies and Co-Curriculum, in Johor, Malaysia. She holds a PhD in Management and a Master of Science (Human Resource Development) from UTM. Management, human development, cultural development and human resource development are her primary areas of expertise. She is also knowledgeable about ethics, civilisation and issues of nationhood.

Rojanah Kahar is a senior lecturer at the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Faculty of Human Ecology, UPM. She holds a PhD in Law, a Master of Comparative Law (MCL), LLB (Hons) and LLB (Hons) Shariah from the IIUM. Her research interests include family law, social policy and child protection, family studies and parenting. She is also interested in socio-legal studies.

Ros Aiza Mohd Mokhtar is a senior lecturer at Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia. She earned her PhD in Religious Studies at UM. She has 19 years' experience of teaching in Higher Education Institutions in Malaysia and is actively involved in research. She has published her works on the belief and culture of ethnicity in Malaysia. Her research interests include religious tolerance and social cohesion in Malaysia. She is also interested in multidisciplinary research projects in complementary medicine and the social sciences.

Sa'odah Ahmad is a senior lecturer in the Department of Human Development and Family Studies, Faculty of Human Ecology, UPM. She holds a PhD in Law, a Master of Comparative Law and an LLB (Hons) from the IIUM. Her area of expertise is law and family mediation. She has conducted research related to family law, family and community mediation, consumer protection and halal policy. She is also interested in work and family ecology as well as socio-legal studies.

Stephen Chia is Professor and Director at the Centre for Global Archaeological Research, USM. He graduated with a PhD in Archaeology from USM. His current research interests include the prehistory and early history of Borneo and Southeast Asia as well as the conservation and preservation of archaeological heritage and culture in Malaysia.

Siti Hajar Abu Bakar Ah is a Professor at the Department of Social Administration and Justice, UM. Her core area of expertise is social policy. For over 20 years, she has been involved in developing and promoting the teaching, learning and research opportunities in the field of social policy and social work. She teaches social policy, social welfare system, social planning, social evaluation and monitoring, research methodology and social theories. Her research interests focus on social care programmes for at-risk children in Malaysia, children's well-being and social development for vulnerable social groups.

Tengku Fauzan Tengku Anuar is a senior lecturer at the Department of Creative Technology, Faculty of Creative Technology and Heritage, UMK. Her educational background in visual communication design and new media has given her a broad base from which to approach many topics. She is also a core member of the University Center of Excellence, Institute for Poverty Research and Management (InsPeK), that focuses on research, capacity building and services as well as collaboration networks related to poverty by focusing on efforts to manage poverty based on a comprehensive approach.

Tsuji Shyuji is a former senior lecturer of the Department of Heritage Studies, Faculty of Creative Technology and Heritage Studies, UMK. He obtained his MA and PhD degrees in South East Asian Studies from Sophia University and the UM, respectively. His current research interests are community-led safeguarding of natural and cultural heritages, and education for sustainable development. He recently serves as a programme coordinator of a UNESCO Global Geopark Program in Japan.

Viswanathan Selvaratnam pursued his undergraduate studies at the UM in Singapore and postgraduate studies at both the Delhi University's Delhi School of Economics and University of Manchester. Before his retirement, he taught at both the UM and the National University of Singapore. Subsequently, he served as a Higher Education Specialist at the World Bank in Washington, DC.

At the point of his article being accepted, Wan Chang Da was the Director of the National Higher Education Research Institute (Institut Penyelidikan Pendidikan Tinggi Negara, IPPTN), USM. His research interest is higher education policy, and he read education at the University of Oxford. Currently, he is the CEO of The HEAD Foundation and remains an Adjunct Professor at IPPTN.

Yanti Mustapha is a senior lecturer at the Faculty of Business and Management, Universiti Teknologi MARA (UiTM) Cawangan Kedah. She received a BA in Business Administration from Washington State University, an MBA from UPM, and a PhD in Entrepreneurship from USM in 2016. Her studies concentrate on topics such as women entrepreneurship and online education.

Zainuddin Baco is a senior lecturer in the History Programme, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, UMS. He holds a PhD from USM and a Master of Arts (MA) from UMS. His research interests include underwater cultural heritage resource management and maritime archaeology.